PRESIDENT IS NOW IN FULL CONTROL OF G. O. P. MACHINE

Has Named Convention
Place, Keynoter and National Chairman; Is Still Going Strong.

LIKES MR. BORAH

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
1. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Washington, May 2.—President Coolidge has laid a firm and heavy hand on the Republican party organization.

Now that his nomination at Cleveland six weeks hence has been placed in the category of certainties, he has taken over absolute control of the G. O. P. machine, and henceforth his will will be the guiding hand on the steering wheel, and his will be the foot on the accelerator.

The President's assumption of control has been so gradual and easy that the Republican Senatorial clique that "ran" the Chicago convention four years ago have had but little voice in shaping the plan for the Cleveland convocation.

Starting in suspiciously by taking the convention away from Chicago, where it was destined to go and giving it to Cleveland, he followed up by naming Burton (of Ohio, as temporary chairman and keynoter, and he topped it off today by accepting the resignation of John T. Adams as chairman of the National committee and designating Wm. M. Butler of Mass., as Adams' successor.

Butler announced himself some time ago as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Senator from Mass. this year, Senator David I. Walsh the Democratic incumbent, being up for re-election.

It is now expected that Butler will withdraw from this contest, devote himself entirely to the task of electing Mr. Coolidge and if that is accomplished next November, graduate into the new Coolidge cabinet.

Meanwhile, the understanding that prevails in Washington is that Louis A. Coolidge, treasurer of the United Shoe Machinery Company, will be Walsh's Republican opponent for the Senate in November.

Three more decisions of paramount importance remain to be made with regard to the Cleveland convention, the selection of a permanent chairman, the designation of the man who will make the nominating speech for Mr. Coolidge, and lastly and more important, the selection of a running mate.

In view of the thorough going manner in which Mr. Coolidge has taken over the organization there was little doubt today that he will make these decisions as he has made the others.

The President is understood to be desirous of having Senator Borah of Idaho, make either the nominating speech or round the party call as permanent chairman. As for the vice presidency, Mr. Coolidge is said to have expressed no preference other than the nominee be from the west and that he be regular in every thing that the term implies.

The passing of Adams as National chairman which will take place at Cleveland has long been anticipated. Adams has been closely identified

SWALLOWED CLOTHES PIN WHILE HANGING OUT MONDAY WASH

Columbus, O., May 2 (INS.)—Women's stunt of holding clothes pins between her teeth while hanging out the Monday wash cost Mrs. Lola Hockenberry, of this city, an operation and considerable discomfort. Mrs. Hockenberry is to be released today from the White Cross hospital where an operation was performed to remove a clothes pin from her stomach. She slipped and fell while hanging out clothes and swallowed the pin.

NO TRACE FOUND OF MAJ. MARTIN LOST ON ALASKAN COAST

Cordova, Alaska, May 2 (INS.)—Major Frederick L. Martin, with his flag-plane, Seattle, of the United States army round the world flight was still missing today.

Despite the fact that the coast guard cutters Algonquin, Pioneer and Haida and all available cannery boats have been searching for 24 hours they have found no trace of the missing aviator. Lieut. Bissell, advance officer of the flight, is directing the search from on board the Haida which has been stationed at Dutch Harbor. The Haida carries all of the spare parts needed for outfitting the big Douglas planes being used in the flight and will be able to furnish needed repairs if the Seattle is found disabled.

The weather remains unchanged. Cold winds are blowing carrying snow from the mountain tops.

The search for the missing aviator will be continued with every available resource and if no trace is found by the vessels now patrolling the coast line, Major Martin's companion flyers at Dutch Harbor will fly over the route he was to follow in an effort to find him.

Martin took off from Chignik at 11:20 a. m. Wednesday. The Seattle carried little or no food supplies and fears were expressed here that Major Martin and his mechanic, Sergeant Harvey may be suffering from hunger if they were forced to land in some isolated cove.

Greenville, Pa., May 2 (INS.)—Mercer county authorities today are tracing down every clue which may lead to the identity of the man who is believed to have killed an unidentified companion on the Erie-Pittsburgh Highway, then dragged the body to the barn of Samuel Wiley two miles north of here.

The charred body of the dead man was found in the smoldering ruins of Wiley's barn today. Bloodstains in the roadway near the barn led police to believe he was killed by some unknown person. The barn was fired at midnight last night. Money, keys and a belt buckle were found in the ruins but the main clue followed by authorities is a cap bearing the trademark of a Meadville, Pa., clothier.

PINCHOT SAYS HE WOULD TEAR DOWN ROCKVIEW PRISON

Institution There Everything It Should Not Be Says Governor After An Inspection.

PRAISES WARDEN

PINCHOT oipp ha' (u)
Harrisburg, Pa., May 2—"If I could I would tear down Rockview penitentiary and erect a modern prison structure in its place," Gov. Gifford Pinchot declared yesterday in giving an account of his official visit to Rockview yesterday. The Governor has made somewhat similar comment about the Eastern and Western pens, whose scrapping he favors, but for the present is contenting himself with the preparation of plans for the developments of the three penal institutions in the state.

"The original plan of Rockview included substantially everything that a modern prison ought not to be," the Governor declared in the course of a warm commendation of the attitude of the prisoners and denunciation of the conditions they are forced to make the best of. "Consequently the men are sleeping in two great rooms intended for dining halls, eating in a sub-basement, and deprived of many things a modern prison affords, but in spite of it they are cheerful, healthy, willing, and on the road to better things."

The time is coming, Gov. Pinchot said when the penitentiary will be regarded as a relic of barbarism, but it must be used until it can be replaced. He plans for improving prevalent penal conditions, he admitted, despite the lack of money, and it is his purpose to develop the Eastern, Western and Rockview penitentiaries along "modern prison lines" with the idea of treating the men not as wild beasts but as human beings to be reclaimed.

The approximately 600 men at Rockview are possessed of excellent morale according to the Governor and all with whom he conversed spoke highly of acting warden Joe Stutsman. They work willingly and are fully occupied.

As an example of the morale, the Governor said recently 12 Pittsburgh prisoners refused to work a job longer than eight hours. The warden and his guards took up the job but when the other prisoners heard of the trouble they petitioned and were permitted to take over the task.

On his inspection trip Gov. Pinchot was accompanied by George Kirschway, a prison reform expert.

EMBARGO PLACED ON SHIPMENT OF ARMS TO CUBA

Washington, May 2 (INS.)—President Coolidge today placed an embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition from the United States to Cuba, where a revolution is expected momentarily.

The President's proclamation establishing the embargo will not prohibit the sale of arms by the War Department to the Cuban government.

President Zayas has already asked the United States to sell him several hundred thousand dollars worth of arms and ammunition. This order will be filled but no other shipments will be permitted to rebel factions in Cuba.

The children of the Children's Home, who are under the care of the county, paid the Commissioners a visit yesterday at the court house.

Both the children and the commissioners enjoyed the visit immensely. Mrs. J. M. Gallaher of West Locust street, entertained at bridge on Wednesday evening.

The can was found near the scene of what police believe was a bitter struggle ending in the victim's death.

Mrs. Clarke Howell, Jr., Atlanta (Ga.) society girl, now has a mother-in-law for a mother. It happened this way: Clarke Howell, Sr., Atlanta publisher, attended the wedding of his son and met the bride's mother, falling in love with her and marrying her a few days later.

Boys' Parade Drew Thousands To The Street Last Night

The "Boys Parade," engineered by the Clearfield Rotary Club as one of the features of National Boys' week, was all that could be expected of it. There were more than one thousand boys in line, together with the American Legion and Clearfield Italian Bands.

The "future greats" of this community presented an inspiring sight as they traversed our principal streets. The sidewalks all along the line of march were lined with spectators out to see our young America on parade and expressed their pleasure at the sight by prolonged applause.

Secretary "Pop" Wilson, sans his camel, marshaled the parade, with a dozen or more fellow Rotarians acting as aids.

At the conclusion of the parade "Pop" herded his flock into the High School auditorium filling it to running over, whereupon the new American Legion Orchestra enthused the boys with several fine musical selections.

When music sufficient had been dispensed, lights were turned off, the screen unrolled and an excellent movie program turned loose on the kiddies. They enjoyed every minute and so did the parade marshals who acted as ushers. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all hands, the adults in the audience getting a full measure of joy out of the manner in which that crowd of boys sensed and responded to every situation brought out upon the screen. It was a real pleasure to see the lightning like working of the composite minds of those 1200 kids. Nothing escaped instant notice and that included a free range from sentiment to ridiculousness.

It was a great evening for the boys—old and young. There should be more of them.

The Rotarians are grateful to the boys who participated in the parade and especially grateful to the teachers of the schools who so splendidly co-operated with them.

Burns His Money, Drinks Furniture Polish And Eats Wall Paper Cleaner

Altoona, Pa., May 1.—Frank Urban of Cresson committed suicide this afternoon in a spectacular manner. Going to the bank at Cresson, he withdrew $1,400 in money, collected $600 in cash and changed silver to bills. Putting the money on the kitchen table he set fire to it and watched the money slowly burn.

Going to the pantry, Urban drank a pint of furniture polish and then ate a can of wall paper cleaner. He died several hours later. Urban was a stone mason, about 65 years of age. His wife, who survives, cannot ascribe and reason for the man's act.

METHODIST CONFERENCE ASKS ACTION ON HARDING WORLD COURT PLAN

Springfield, Mass., May 2 (NIS.)—A resolution requesting action on the world court plans of the late President Warren G. Harding was adopted by the Methodist General Conference here today. The resolution was introduced by Judge Henry W. Ruge New York. Copies of the resolution (which points to more than a year of congressional inaction, will be sent to President Coolidge and Senator Lodge.

7 YEAR OLD SON OF M. BOWNE BADLY HURT YESTERDAY AFT'RN

Andie, the little 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Bowne, of West Fourth avenue, is a patient at the Clearfield Hospital suffering from a fractured skull, with but a 50-50 chance for his life, as the result of an accident which befell him near the corner of Nichols and Weaver street yesterday afternoon about 3:45 o'clock.

Little Andie, a pupil in the Third Ward schools, was on his way home from school. At Nichols street several other pupils with him ran into the street and climbed onto a passing coal wagon. Andie was unable to get on and after running behind the wagon, decided to give up trying to get on and started toward the sidewalk. He ran from behind the wagon directly into the path of a Dodge car driven by John Cutler of West Side and which, though traveling the same direction as the coal wagon, had just turned out to pass it.

The front fender struck the lad and he was bounced back against the rear fender as Cutler swerved his car to avoid running over him. The blow from the rear fender threw the boy with great force against the curb at the side of the road.

Cutler, who had his car well under control stopped it at once and jumping out picked the unconscious lad up in his arms and placing him in the automobile hurriedly carried him to the Clearfield Hospital where an examination by Drs. Frantz and Waterworth disclosed that he was suffering from a fracture at the base of the skull and severe concussion. He remained in an unconscious condition much of the night, but his condition today is somewhat encouraging.

After taking the child to the hospital Mr. Cutler drove to the Bowne home on West Fourth avenue and notified Mrs. Bowne of the accident and also drove her to the hospital. While blameless in the matter Mr. Cutler feels very badly over his part in the unfortunate happening and has already made every amends possible.

FORD SECRETARY SAYS MILLER "GOSSIPY"

Washington, May 2 (INS.)—The Senate agriculture committee today sought from James M. Miller former Washington newspaper correspondent, and E. G. Leibold, Henry Ford's secretary, an explanation of Miller's statement in a telegram to Leibold that President Coolidge was trying to "deliver" Muscle Shoals to Ford.

Appearing before the committee at the request of Senators Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, Leibold said that Miller wrote "gossipy letters" and that "little importance" was attached to his communications.

SKIPPER JOHNSON MAKES TRIP OVER 'TOONERVILLE' DIV.

Engine Broke Down At Station; It Is Thought
It Gnashed Its Teeth
At Sight of a Jitney.

A 20 MINUTE DELAY

"Skipper" Johnston of the "Toonerville" branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad was a Clearfield visitor yesterday, taking advantage of the worse than miserable regular passenger service of the "Toonerville" division to get here. His mission presumably was to get a sort of reflex on how their propaganda was getting over relative to the inspired statement that the business interests of this region were hamstrung in mail and passenger service because the "Toonerville" division had gone into the hole $40,000 during the past year because of their operations of the two trains taken off between Tyrone and Gramplan and Oscoda and Maders.

Figures will lie and liars will figure until they get blue in the face, but it is to laugh, when the "Toonerville" people attempt to get that $40,000 loss over. That don't go very far up in this neck of the woods; we happen to know he Pennay and its curves. Before they would even get within seeing distance of a $40,000 hole in their bank account they would take off every passenger train in "Toonerville" territory and go back to old Bill Irvin and his first accommodation train. The "Toonerville" branch was always strong on service, but the almighty dollar, they just love it and must have it regardless.

Then, too, the "Toonerville" people owe the people of this region some little return for their public utility franchise. One, at least, of their apologists, in attempting to force that $40,000 bunk down our necks says "If the statement is true that there was a $40,000 loss annually in the running of these trains, would any private business enterprise continue to operate a branch of its business at such a loss. We don't think a private enterprise would. They couldn't stand it, because they would have no way of getting their money back."

But even with a $40,000 loss in one branch or section of their business (which can't be admitted in this case) of a public service utility, granted a franchise privilege with right of eminent domain, which means "do as they darn please, regardless" the "Toonerville" division earns

They Attracted Attention

By ELLA SAUNDERS

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

EVER since Mr. and Mrs. Merriam took up their residence at the hotel they had attracted attention. They were the sort of people who attracted attention. Merriam was a good-looking man. Mrs. Merriam was a perfect little beauty—like a little blonde doll, the other women said.

And so innocent and simple. The gang of old maids and disillusioned wives who hung about the lobby all day poured the usual stories of men's perfidy into her ears.

And she had never dreamed of such a thing. It had never occurred to her as a possibility that her husband could deceive her, though they had been married eight years.

She listened and looked at them with a pitying smile.

"All that may be true for most men, Mrs. Rogers," she said, "but I have absolute confidence in Harry. Why, we love each other."

"Well, my dear, it isn't for me to make insinuations about your husband," answered the grass widow spitefully. "Only if my husband said he had to stay at the office till past midnight every day on account of pressure of work, I think I should ring him up and find out anyhow, just to make sure that he hadn't got lost on the way home."

"Why, I should never dream of doing such a thing," exclaimed little Mrs. Merriam indignantly. "I trust my husband and have faith in him."

That evening the gang for a little. But when the next Sunday the couple went out for a motor ride, as happy as a king and queen, envy stared in their brains.

And they made a dead set at her. The next day again. "Of course, my dear Mrs. Merriam, you understand nobody was hurt," insinuated about Mr. Merriam. "He's a perfect angel, with the good teeth. He's never appeared devoted to you. But you think he's even the most perfect husband in the world, don't you? You see, you can never get about a man."

But Mrs. Merriam stood, "I don't understand," she said. "Mrs. Merriam, I have been thinking about you."

made in her armor. They pressed harder. "Don't you see that however devoted a man may be to his wife, it is so easy to lead him astray. You protected women, surrounded by every comfort and luxury, don't understand that."

"But what am I to do?" pleaded the little woman piteously.

"You? Oh, my dear, nobody was talking about you. You don't need to do anything. You are the great exception."

"Yes, you are the great exception," said Miss Keith, showing her teeth.

"Well, then, what's it all about?" They looked at one another abashed. They had never met such simplicity and innocence before.

Little Mrs. Merriam rose indignantly. "I believe," she said, "that you are trying to influence me against my husband."

"Oh, my dear," came the protests. "Let me tell you that he is the best man in the world, and absolutely incapable of doing anything to hurt me. Nor could he so lower himself as to even look at another woman."

And she went indignantly into the elevator, leaving the crowd thoroughly disconcerted. They saw that they would have to look round for another victim.

Meanwhile the elevator carried Mrs. Merriam up to the apartment. Arrived there, she stood in the middle of the room for a while with flushed cheeks and hands clenched.

"The cats!" she said. "The old cats! They're jealous of my husband, that's what's the trouble with them."

Unlocking a drawer, she took out a letter and read it for the twentieth time. It was a love-letter from Mr. Merriam to his stenographer. It was of the most compromising character.

Little Mrs. Merriam, with sudden decision, tore it into tiny scraps and let them flutter into the wastebasket.

"Poor Harry!" she sighed. "They're all the same. But those cats downstairs shan't guess it."

For Mr. Merriam, also, was protected.

YOUR BACK ACHE?

After Grip, "flu" or colds, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of kidneys.

This is the red flag of danger—better to wise and check the further inroads of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as Anuric (anti-uric-acid), because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists, or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package of Anuric, or ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache remedy).

Everywhere folks praise it. Butler, Pa.—"I had the influenza and it left me with bad kidneys, they were inflamed and sore, congested and inactive and my back ached so badly that it seemed it would break in two. At times the pains would extend clear up to the back of my neck. I took medicine for my kidneys but nothing gave me any relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and they so completely relieved me of all my kidney trouble and put my kidneys in such perfect working order that they have never given me any more trouble. I have never taken medicine that can compare with Dr. Pierce's Anuric."—W. J. Love, 818 Jefferson street.

"We Have Been Sacrificing Women and Children on Altar of Mammon"

By SAMUEL GOMPERS, American Federation of Labor.

We have been sacrificing women and children in this country on the altar of Mammon, but the conscience of the people of America has been awakened. Child life of the country must be considered at all hazards. To say that the Constitution of the United States is impotent to protect the children of our time is begging the question.

The courts have declared that laws which were passed by the congress of the country upon the demand of the people, to protect minors from undue exploitation, are void. That the people, through their representatives, cannot pass a law to protect the child life of our time, is to lay the greatest indictment against our competency.

This movement of ours, commonly known as a labor movement, is born of necessity. It is the result of conditions, born in hunger by hunger—hunger for better food, hunger for better shelter, hunger for rest, hunger for recreation, hunger for music, the arts, literature—all that goes to make up a better and fuller life.

My Secrets

Of beauty are yours now, if you wish
BY EDNA WALLACE HOPPER

I made myself a famous beauty. And that beauty brought me glory. I have kept that beauty to a grand old age. After 40 years in the limelight, I still look a girl of 19.

These facts are due to helps I found through years of world-wide searching. They are, I believe, the best beauty helps in existence. No one I know has, in other ways, attained any like results.

So I have had these helps prepared and placed where all may get them. And I hope to see them bring to millions the benefits I got.

Just four will do.

These beauty helps comprise 32 different factors. But great experts have combined them in four preparations. And all are sold at modest prices which every girl and woman can afford.

One is my White Youth Clay. A clean, refined clay, vastly more efficient than ordinary clays. A clay perfected by French experts through 20 years of scientific study.

My White Youth Clay brings a new complexion, rosy, clear and clean. It combats all lines and wrinkles. No woman who once tries it will ever go without it. It costs 50 cents and $1.

Youthful Bloom

My Cold Cream is a cold cream like nothing else you know. It contains products of both lemon and strawberry. French experts have embodied in it the best skin helps they know. Apply it after the clay. Also use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Keep it ever on the skin to feed and white, firm, soften and protect. The price is 60 cents.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser, now used by leading beauty experts the world over. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. And the dirt and refuse nothing else can reach comes with it. Great beauty experts charge $3 for it. Mine sells for 75 cents.

The hair you envy
My glorious hair is due to my Hair Youth. It is heavy, silky, lustrous, and grows finer every year. Falling hair, dandruff and gray hairs are unknown to me.

My Hair Youth is applied with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It does not muss the hair. It keeps the scalp like a well-kept garden where hair roots can flourish. It costs 50 cents and $1 with eye dropper.

All druggists and toilet counters supply these preparations, exactly as I use them. My Beauty book comes with each. They will bring you rich rewards. If you want more beauty, longer youth, these are the best ways science knows to get them. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Thrashing Machine

A little chap was offered a chance to spend the week in the country, but refused. Conning, pleading, arguing, promising of untold wonders, alike brought from him nothing but the stubborn ultimatum: "No country for me!"

"But why not?" someone asked finally.

"Because," he responded, "they have thrashin' machines down there an' it's bad enough here where it's done by hand."—Interior.

When all else fails, Kellogg's Bran relieves constipation. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases, or your grocer will return your money. For Kellogg's is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective.

Doctors recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. They know it brings results. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It rids the system of those dangerous poisons which lead to other diseases.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will like the wonderful, nut-like flavor. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Try it in the recipes given on every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels and clubs. Sold by all grocers.

Must Continue Fight

SAMUEL ARONOWITZ of Albany, N. Y., first vice commander of the American Legion of that state, said during the course of an address made in Troy: "The American Legion will justify its existence this year. We must continue our fight for the disabled until every veteran incapacitated as a result of service is receiving adequate compensation, proper hospitalization and opportunity to become rehabilitated and take his place as a self-respecting citizen, adding his share to the economic prosperity of our country. We must continue our work in Americanization with the hope that the time may soon come when there will be but one language spoken in our country, and that the English language; when there will be but one set of ideals upon which our country was founded and which are so clearly stated in the Declaration of Independence; when there will be one allegiance, and that an undivided allegiance to the United States."

OLDEST ENLISTED MAN IN WORLD WAR

There are only a few honorary members of the American Legion. Marshal Ferdinand Foch, General Gouraud and General Pershing are three of them. Here is another. Frank Jones, a janitor at the state capitol in Des Moines, Ia., was the oldest enlisted man in the army during the World War. He served in Company K of the One Hundred and Sixty-eighth Infantry of the Rainbow division. And he danced with Elsie Janis when she entertained the company just outside of Chateau-Thierry.

Jones is better known to the veterans as "Kokomo." He served in the Frank Jones.

Philippines and also on the Mexican border with a National Guard unit. He was a pal of the late Jack London and he once cooked for the California Literary Light.

When "Kokomo" got back to his home town of Corns, Ia., the citizens set him up in business with a restaurant and cigar stand. But the role of town hero didn't appeal to the old veteran, so he visited his former battalion commander, who is now state auditor of Iowa, and asked for a job. They needed a man to polish the brass railings in the capitol building and "Kokomo" is happy on the job.

Judge Day Again Wins Favor With Legion Men

Judge L. B. Day of Omaha, Neb., who is already well known to members of the American Legion for his aid to alien boys served in the United States military honorably, in securing citizenship has deepened this appreciation from Legionnaires by another act.

Frank Kubas, an alien, presented himself in court for naturalization and testified that he had not claimed exemption from military service with the United States because of allegiance to another country.

This did not satisfy naturalization examiners, who wrote to Washington for particulars. When Kubas' record came back it was found that he had owed allegiance to another country, and this was reported to Judge Day, who immediately recalled the naturalization papers.

The jurist told the man that a person who thus evaded service to a nation which he hoped to call his own was unfit for citizenship, and his attitude was received with approbation by Legionnaires of Omaha.

He Raised Flag Over School After Apology

A school director in Pope county, Ark., recently changed his mind about hoisting an American flag over the district school, in compliance with a state law. The American Legion asked and secured passage of a statute at the last session of the legislature, providing that during school sessions the American flag should be flown over the building.

The director refused to comply with the law and wrote a rather arrogant letter to the county superintendent of schools. This official passed the letter and facts concerning the case on to the prosecuting attorney, who called the director before him for an apology.

This was forthcoming, though the director did not explain his reason for refusing to raise the flag at first, giving as his defense that he had been a "loyal citizen during war time." He ordered the flag raised over the school after his apology.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

There will be 1094 votes in the New York Democratic convention. Under its two-thirds rule, 729 1/2 will be necessary to nominate. Of the 1094, a majority, or 662, have been chosen. Of these, 324 are instructed, leaving 338 free to vote as they like on any and all ballots.

Harrisburg, following Altoona's example, has put a ban on tearing up newly paved streets for the purpose of installing power or sewer connections which could have been installed before the streets were paved. The announcement of the new order was made early this week by the Harrisburg city commissioner of highways.

The Altoona city council, some time ago, adopted an ordinance introduced by S. B. Taylor, commissioner of parks and public property, which prohibits cutting through newly laid paving for laying service lines for a period of five years after the paving has been laid. The ordinance was passed because promiscuous slashing of streets had come to a point where the city was shouldering considerable expense where such expense was due solely to the negligence of persons who might just as easily have installed their service mains before paving work was started.

Might be a good thing to try here in Clearfield.

Diphtheria is the most deadly of all the diseases of childhood. Dr. J. Bruce McCreary, medical director, Bureau of Child Health, Department of Health, declared in an article written for the department for distribution in its campaign of public health and hygiene. He asserted "the disease is present in all communities at all times," asserting that the "younger child the more deadly the disease."

"It is a disease that is communicated from one child to another," Dr. McCreary said. "The germs are coughed and breathed from one child to another directly or they are lodged on objects handled by the second child (pencils, books, toys, etc.)."

He pointed out that 95 per cent of the 20,794 cases of diphtheria reported in Pennsylvania in 1921 were children, that this number 2,032 deaths were reported and that the average age of the children dying was 3 1/2 years. He asserted "most of those that got a doctor early and were properly treated got well. Most of those that delayed in getting a doctor died."

State officers of the Patriotic Order Sons of America have sent letters to camps throughout Pennsylvania urging expulsion of Congressman William S. Vare, South Philadelphia, as a member of the order. The letters state Vare, in a speech which he was given "leave to print" in the Congressional Record, said "Foreign born are better citizens than native born." Such statements, the officers assert, justify ousting Vare from the P. O. S. of A.

"He criticized Governor Pinchot for going counter to American thought in attacking President Coolidge and himself has gone to greater lengths when he turns his face on the platform of the Republican party which favors restricted immigration," the letter continues.

"Vare does not represent the thought of Pennsylvania. He represents foreign votes and is willing to sell out his fellow brethren of the Patriotic Order Sons of America and other organizations in a cheap, political way."

Light and Ventilation Plan an Important Part

Plenty of light and ventilation in the poultry house will help to keep the flock healthy and the house clean and sanitary. The general appearance of the interior of a poultry house should be bright, light, and cheerful. Keeping the walls and ceiling sprayed with whitewash will produce this effect. When there are enough windows, the interior of the house, will be sufficiently lighted even on sunless days.

Sunlight is the best-known germ destroyer, therefore all openings should be so located that the sun will strike every part of the poultry house at some time during the day. During the wintertime windows play an important part in keeping the birds alive.

Both dampness and impure air are the result of poor ventilation. A damp house is one of the surest ways to cut down egg production and cause colds, roup and kindred ills. A current of unbleached muslin will allow fresh air to pass into the house and allow bad air to pass out and it will also prevent drafts. These curtains should be used only in severely cold weather and should always be open during the day, except when it is necessary to close them to keep out storms or heavy fogs.

One square foot of curtain to six square feet of floor space is a safe rule to follow. All openings should be far enough above the floor so that there will be no drafts directly upon the birds.

Why does a tornado whirl?

—because areas of cold heavy air form in a certain relation to areas of warm light air. Then the heavy air displaces the light air in a movement which causes a whirl.

Heart Disease Chief Cause of Death; Harvard Professor Blames Tonsils

DISEASED tonsils are named by Dr. William H. Robey, of Harvard Medical School, as an important factor in the spread of heart disease, now chief among all causes of death, according to 1923 statistics.

"Heart disease now leads the mortality list," said Dr. Robey at a recent lecture in Boston. "If its ravages are to be reduced something must be done to tell the public about its causes."

"Most of us are born with sound hearts. The disease comes later, frequently from preventable causes. When discovered early the case is not hopeless. There are many things that can be done to prolong life."

"The seeds of heart disease are sown in youth. Primarily it is not a disease of middle age. Rheumatic fever indicates a condition that may lead to heart disease later in life. Where there are recurring attacks of the fever we should go immediately after the 'foci of infection.' The tonsils should be removed completely, with not a trace remaining. Tonsils are an undoubted source of infection and responsible for conditions leading to heart disease."

Dr. Robey also blamed the strain and tension of modern life and habits of excess in eating and drinking. In the case of coffee, he stated that more than one cup and a half a day was the beginning of excess. He urged periodic physical examinations for everyone.

"The Pottery City"

American cities in great number get their nicknames from their principal industry. Trenton is "The Pottery City"; Troy, "The Gun City"; Fall River, "The Cotton City"; Akron, "The Rubber City"; Hollywood, "The Movie City"; Paterson, "The Silk City"; Washington, "The Brass City"; and Danbury, "The Hat City."

John Keats

John Keats (who, instead of being a poet, was a sensitive dreamer of popular imagination, as a two-faced swapper who kept a bag of ale) was covered by a blue and throat with orange pepper, in order to enjoy the deliciousness of claret in all the glory.

When We Deteriorate

A man begins to deteriorate, to go toward failure, not when he loses all of his material possessions, not when he fails in his undertakings, but when he loses faith in himself. In his ability to make his dreams come true.

he Queen City"

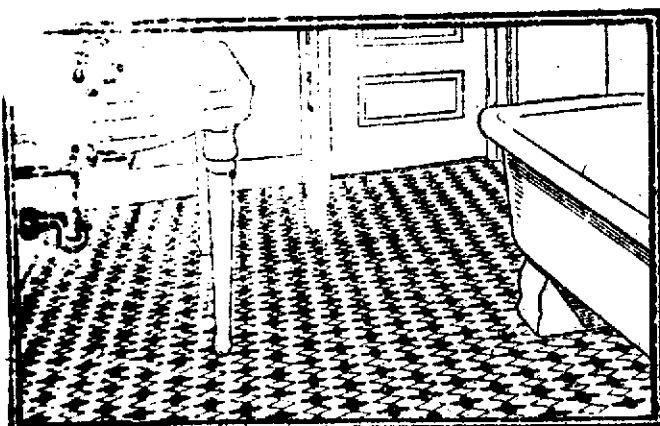

Cincinnati, which believes that it is one of the most beautiful cities in the western world, calls itself "The Queen City" and "The Paris of America," while to others it is known as "Porkopolis." Chicago, among other names, has "The Windy City" and "The Stock Yards City." Washington is "The Federal City" and "The City of Magnificent Distances."

Where Women Are Barred

According to the census there are 35 occupations in which no women are listed, while there is but one occupation that is without men. The last enumeration even listed 250 men as chambermaids and 11 men as nursemaids. Only one woman was listed as a butler.

and you can't go wrong—"A triple-strength flavor lasts three times as long." That's why the flavor of Flier's Checkerberry Chewing Gum lasts.

WHAT DO YOU DEMAND OF YOUR FLOOR COVERINGS, AND WHY?

First, in this day of high prices and many demands on the purse, every woman wants a moderate first cost combined with durability.

In an age of disappointing servants and new knowledge of the importance of cleanliness to health, we want a floor covering that is easily kept clean.

POULTRY

CULLING HEN FLOCK INCREASES PROFITS

The first essential for high egg production is healthy and vigorous stock, says H. M. Wells, the extension poultryman, of the University of Nebraska. Birds that have any physical defects should not be kept. The indications in health and vigor are noted by a good bright eye, a bright red comb and an active disposition. The poor layer will generally appear listless, inactive and have a poor appetite. The hen that is first off the roost in the morning, the last on the roost at night, and has a full crop of feed when she goes to roost, usually proves to be the best layer.

Certain colors of pigment changes also indicate whether a hen is a good layer or not, especially during the summer months after a period of heavy laying. These color changes can be noted in yellow-skinned breeds. The heavy layers can usually be distinguished by the light hair appearance of the vent, eye ring, beak, skin, and shanks. This is due to the fact that the laying fowl uses up the surplus fat in the body for egg production, using it especially from the skin. The fat carries with it the color pigment so that the good layer has lighter-colored shanks, skin and beak than has the poor layer.

Points to Observe in Picking Out Layers.

Poultry profits are not based altogether on the number of hens in the flock, but rather on the number of eggs that the hens lay. The elimination of the poor layer from the flock should begin about the first week in June or as soon as the production begins to decrease perceptibly, and should continue during the summer and fall. The accompanying diagram shows the points that should be given special consideration when culling the poor layers out of the flock.

Origin of Pep

According to H. L. Mencken, author of "The American Language," the word "pep," meaning vim, punch, snap, vigor, is a shortened form of "pepper." But it does not appear that "pepper" was ever used extensively in the modern popular sense of "pep." The fact probably is that "pep" was a new coinage merely suggested by "pepper," but not necessarily associated with it in meaning.

Half-Knowledge

I am not one of those who believe that a half-knowledge of a subject is useless, but it has been my experience that when a fellow has that half-knowledge he finds it's the other half which would really come in handy. Illinois Central Magazine.

Valuable Advice

Tell me how a young man uses his spare time, and I'll foretell his future. The youngster who studies in spare hours is sure of promotion. But the lad who just "kills time" when he's old will whine about "hard luck" and "no chance." Think this over, boys.

Origin of Naval Oranges

Naval oranges, of which California sends out 8,000,000 boxes a year, were introduced into the United States from Brazil by the Department of Agriculture in 1870. The first experimental grove contained fewer than twenty trees. One of the original two trees brought here may be seen in Washington, D. C., still and the other is exhibited in California.

The Swamp Angel

The "Swamp Angel" was an eight inch Parrott cannon, so-called by the federal soldiers, that was used in the siege of Vicksburg, S. C. It burst August 22, 1863 and was sent to Treason, N. J., where it now occupies a granite base on the corner of Perry and Clinton streets.

Power of the Mind

It is only by thinking about great and good things that we come to love them, and it is only by loving them that we come to befriend them and it is only by befriending them that we are impelled to seek for them.

Sincerity

Remember this little rule for success: Let your every act start from a sincere interest in the thing to be done, never from the mere desire to impress others with your personality. Sincerity motives are the firm foundations upon which actual accomplishments are built. Conceited motives are the shifting sands upon which failure is built. —Lowell Tillinghast.

FOOLISH PATIENTS

Some folks appear to think that disease exists for the purpose of enabling doctors to make a living. It is interesting to hear that the doctors themselves, as representatives of modern medical science, do not look at it that way. To them, disease is only an evidence of maladjusted conditions that need correction or removal, and they are devoting their skill to effect that correction.

Of course they come in and do their best to make a sick person well, but prevention of sickness is their ideal. If patients would do as much general work half so earnestly at the prevention of disease as do the doctors, the whole modern work of health promotion would receive a tremendous boost.

But the average individual would still rather eat carelessly, neglect needful exercise and sleep and do other equally foolish things, than obey the doctor's prevention orders. A man who faithfully swallow the bitterest medicines will not faithfully regulate his diet or take his daily "two miles of oxygen on foot."

A LONGER CHILDHOOD

Who would regard as unduly high the age limit for work contained in the child labor amendment adopted by the Pennsylvania Representatives overlook some important facts. The amendment has received very little attention, yet has a vital subject.

The normal period of childhood is lengthening, along with the prolongation of life as a whole. Records show that 70 years is the average duration of human life in America and England. In many other countries it was less than 40 years. According to insurance statisticians, the average expectation of life in this country in 1920 was over 55 years. Today it is over 60 years.

The increase of over 10 per cent in the length of life is not new. The increase, of course, has not all been added to the old age. Youth has had its share of the gain. It is the prolonging out of life all the way from birth to death. Thus a child of 18 today represents a child of 10 years ago. And while this may not be precisely true, it is enough truth in it for practical purposes.

Statistics and biographies indicate a maturity in boys and girls at a given age, 50 or 100 years ago, that are seldom found in children of similar age today. So late as our Civil War, the 18-year-old was generally regarded as a man, and so regarded in the North. Now everyone knows that an eighteen-year-old is only a boy. Eventually the age of boyhood and girlhood may be extended several years more, as "expectation of life" rises toward the century goal.

Progress Editorials for Women

HOW STRONG ARE YOU?

By FLORENCE DAVIES

Italy boasts a "strong woman" who is said to lift a two-ton elephant with apparent ease. It is to marvel—to gasp, at the thought. A monster pachyderm raised aloft by one of "the weaker sex."

But why lift an elephant? Impossible not to ask the question. Some of "Powerful Katrinka's" marvelous achievements are really useful, a great help in an emergency, but what does the elephant gain, or the Italian strong woman, either, by such a display of muscular process?

As a stunt, the most spectacular, Mme. Italia's feat is of course a record breaker, and stunts are the order of the day. Poor is the press agent that has no such thriller to offer as entertainment. But life somehow managed to be very good in the quiet old days when the "human fly" was unknown, before airplanes whisked the movie lovers off when the boat went down in mid-ocean, and when elephants were hoisted by derrick if at all.

Away back in that old horse-and-buggy day, one "Gail Hamilton" wrote of a harassing day when she and "Hallekaskus" had words. Really, she must have been the forerunner of all the "confessions" writers of today. And one thing she said comes back when one reads of that elephant. She had been trying to get a heavy trunk downstairs, with rueful consequences. "I always was weak in the wrists and strong in the temper," she confessed.

One wonders if Italy's strong woman has a proportionately mild disposition. Anyway, strength to control one's temper would be a better asset in the average home, than ability to swing a two-ton elephant aloft.

But the bonds of habit are stronger than muscles of steel. Mrs. Knag snaps the breadwinner of the family up short for something he has done or failed to do, or for some innocent remark with which she disagrees because from long habit she takes the off side of whatever poor Mr. Knag is moved to say.

Mrs. Flarup scolds her children for trifling faults, keeping herself so wrought up that she has neither time nor strength nor clear vision to steer them clear of real pitfalls.

Sister Sarah blazes out at Brother Bob, and keeps the family atmosphere cyclonic for days, when strength to hold her tongue would have saved all the storm. If you really want to know how strong you are, girls, just hang on to that temper.

"SKIPPER" JOHNSON MAKES TRIP

thousands and thousands of dollars by reason of the aforesaid privilege given them and in return for that even the Pennsylvania legislature requires them and they are expected to give the people of the region being exploited under their franchise some measure of passenger service and accommodation. Therefore, before the railroad company can put on or take off any train at will and tell you they do so because of financial loss, they should be required, and we believe are required under their franchise, to measure all their operating expense on the division or that part of it affected as against all the income therefrom.

To illustrate our point, and for the sake of argument, granting that the passenger service of the Pennsylvania on the "Toonerville" division for last year did show a $40,000 loss, what did the freight earnings for the same period show as an offset. Under their public utility franchise, as we understand such privilege, no company can even take the right to measure the service of any one or several passenger trains and take them off because they do not pay, when the income from all other activities of the road are so great, as is the case with the "Toonerville" division. When given the franchise to serve a section of country in the hauling of the mails, freight, etc., the railroad company is required and agrees in return for this grant to give the people of the region adequate mail and passenger service. If the revenues of the road warrant the running of one passenger train and the needs of the people require it, one train must be run. The same rule holds good for three trains or four trains and the cost of such passenger service, if beyond the revenues of such necessary service, is very properly chargeable to the earnings of the road from every source, and no public service utility is entitled to arbitrarily take off any train because that particular train does not pay, provided the deficit occasioned by its operation is only a drop in the bucket of the road's earnings.

We believe that is the way the Public Service Commission will look at the recent action of the Pennsylvania in its arbitrary removal of its several branch trains on Monday last.

"Skipper" Johnston had his own troubles on his visit here, his sins finding him out when he boarded the 3:50 train for "Toonerville" headquarters. The engine of the train attempted to gnash its few remaining teeth at one of the Pullington jitneys as it passed the station and the effort was too much for it. Something gave way in its jaws and it took the engine crew twenty minutes to wire the old thing up strong enough to warrant starting for Tyrone. They pulled out twenty minutes late but the "Skipper" expressed his gratitude at being able to do even that.

Tell the Boss About It

Mark Twain said about the weather: "Everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything about it." Talking won't bring industry back to normal, but good management, straight thinking and hard working by everybody will. If you know any way to help, tell the boss—The Night Watchman.

Speed Makes Plane Fly

An airplane must attain a speed of about 40 miles an hour while taxiing over the ground before it can lift, and unless it is maintained at a speed in excess of 40 miles an hour the machine will fall.

Remarkable New Remedy.

Like a lump of lead in your stomach generating foul gases, bad breath, and a bloated short-winded condition, it is no wonder you get no good from the food you eat, or that you grow pale, irritable, sleepless and headachy. Constipation, heartburn, loss of appetite, restlessness, stomach catarrh, gastritis and acute indigestion, and even more serious complications arise eventually if neglected. It is for these distressing complaints that Sulac is especially recommended, and if you will give it a fair trial you will find that it is all that is claimed for it. In fact if you take six bottles and are not satisfied with the results your druggist is authorized by the manufacturers to refund your money. Sulac is sold in Clearfield by Hunter's Drug Store.

BOYS' WEEK WINDS UP AT "Y"
SATURDAY NIGHT

The newbies of Clearfield are invited to the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 Saturday night for a frolic on the gymnasium floor, a good clean up and refreshing shower bath and a good swim in the crystal 20x60 pool. Every boy is asked to bring soap and towel, and throw all care aside after his busy week of earning the news to the public, and have a jolly good time at the Y.

All the boys of the city over 12 years of age are "in" on the swimming exhibition to be staged at the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool, by the Olympic swimmer, Merrill Maisack who will demonstrate various strokes, and swim some distance with his powerful back stroke. Ed Jay Wilson and Jack Kurtz will assist with fancy diving and other stunts. The boys will be admitted to the gallery of the swimming pool promptly at 8:15 Saturday night, at which time the demonstrators will give a thrilling half hour exhibition to wind up Boys' Week.

To be truly happy is a question of how we begin and not how we end; of what we want and not what we have.

When there is left-over ham, material is at hand for a good main dish.

Ham Pie.—Boll, wash and season enough potatoes to nearly fill a baking dish. Butter the dish well and put a layer of the potato on the bottom.

Pigeon Cutlets.—Cut pigeons into halves, through the breast and back; simmer until tender in a little water. Press under a weight, first removing any bones which will disturb the shape; retain the leg bone. When cold, egg and crumb and cook in hot fat. Serve with boiled onions, carrots or canned peas. Make a brown sauce of the broth, adding to it currant jelly.

Orange Sweetbreads.—Simmer a pair of sweetbreads covered with boiling water for twenty minutes with a slice of onion, or of lemon, and one-half teaspoonful of salt. When parboiled, blanch by plunging into cold water. Remove the membranes and cut the sweetbreads into slices and cook in hot fat until lightly browned. To the pan add one tablespoonful of butter, blended with one tablespoonful of flour; to this add one cupful of chicken or veal stock and cook until smooth and thick. Season with scraped onion, a speck of red pepper, the juice and rind of half an orange and one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Remove the sweetbreads to a hot serving dish and pour round the sauce.

Fillet of Lamb.—Remove the bone from two pounds of lamb cut from the fore quarter, cut the meat into strips and pound flat. Mix three table-spoonfuls of olive oil with three table-spoonfuls of vinegar and two table-spoonfuls of minced onion and parsley. Pour the dressing over the meat and let stand overnight. Serve browned in a hot pan. The bones may be cooked with vegetables, making a fine soup.

THREE MEN LEAD IN MEMBERSHIP CONTEST

During 1923 honors for securing members for the American Legion were about evenly divided between three men. These, John A. Smith of Sioux City, Ia., a member of the Monahan post; Hans Hunsdorf, a disabled man, now patient in a Minnesota hospital; and John Kass of Detroit, led all others in securing applications.

Smith obtained his members in a rather unique manner. He worked out a scheme known as the "Cudahy plan" by means of which he caused the big industrial firms of Sioux City to pay up the dues for ex-service employees, utilizing a "check-off" for repayment. His record approximated nearly one member for each working day of the year.

Hunsdorf obtained his members by personal contact, particularly in Veterans' Bureau hospitals, and wherever veterans gathered and rolled his record up to nearly 250.

Kass, a member of the Charles A. Learned post in Detroit, made an earnest campaign for his applicants, and is said to have interviewed more ex-service men than either of the other two "champs." His record approximated that of Hunsdorf. But to do this, he faced severe competition from one Theodore Kolbe, now department adjutant of the Legion in Michigan. Kolbe's record was near enough to that of Kass that it took a board of judges to determine the standing of the two.

Kass has already made a start toward a 1924 record. On February 29 he had collected dues and applications from 66 veterans. His method of enrolling the veterans as Legionnaires is simple but efficient. "I ask them," he says, "if they will accept membership within 18 days, the duration of a post membership drive. In addition I have added members to other Wayne county posts."

His approach is such the Legion officials in Michigan believe that he must use more salesmanship than do either Smith or Hunsdorf. Smith's plan for reaching the industrial concerns is said to be an advantage, while Hunsdorf gets men who are daily enjoying benefits of the Legion, they argue. And Kass gets out and lands the members by hard work, according to their idea.

The three have on a triangular race for membership honors this year. The Learned post has challenged Omaha post for the greatest membership drive during 1924, a record heretofore held by the Nebraskaans. Kass is one of the main reliance of the Detroit post in bringing this honor to his city.

Hunsdorf is anxious to better his record by at least a hundred, and while the men of the post in Sioux City are dependent on Smith to handle the recruiting alone, it is safe to say that his record will approximate that of 1923.

The "Man from Michigan" has already been proclaimed champion of the Wayne county council membership campaign, and his accomplishment requiring less than three weeks would apparently put him into the national championship class with good chances in the final outcome.

One-fourth of the estate of a disabled World war veteran who died in Kansas City, Mo., was inherited by the American Legion. The veteran, Earl Mason of Indianapolis, provided for the bequest in his will, which named the head of the Legion district hospitalization committee as executor. The estate amounted to approximately $50.

The will recites that "every consideration and kindness" had been shown to Mason by the Legion, and that he made the gift as a token of appreciation and to assist in providing aid for other disabled veterans. Mason went to Kansas City several times ago broken in health and without employment. The Legion assisted him in securing compensation and hospital service.

ROOSTS CONVENIENT IN CLEANING HOUSE

For convenience in cleaning a chicken house, the movable roost shown herewith will command itself to farmers who have only a small number of fowls in their flocks, says the Orange Juice Farmer. The chief advantage is that it can be taken apart quickly and thoroughly cleaned. For control of mites and lice this is a very important feature.

It is made by using two carpenter's horses of any suitable length. The upper sides of the roosters are made for the roosts proper to rest in. These roosts of 3-inch material should fit rather snugly in place and preferably be planned to prevent tilting when the fowls are upon them. The dimensions of the roosters will depend somewhat upon the number of fowls kept. A 3 by 4-inch roosting will be large enough. This should be fastened to the legs well toward the ends. The legs may be of any convenient height; 18 inches to 2 feet will

THINGS WE LIKE

THREE are many housewives who prefer the dried fruits (some of them) in preparing preserves. One of these is especially good is apricots, the dried ones, and canned pineapple, too, as usual, long and well, and put into glasses, sealed as usual.

Baked Ham With Potatoes.

Take a thick slice of center cut of ham, the bottom of a casserole. Rub the ham a teaspoonful of mustard and two tablespoonfuls of brown sugar. Cover the ham with thinly sliced potatoes, enough to furnish the bottom, adding one finely shredded onion. Cover with milk and add such seasoning of salt and pepper as is needed. Bake long and slowly in a hot oven until the milk is all baked into the potatoes and makes a rich brown gravy with the fat from the ham. Serve from the casserole. This is a nice dinner for a busy day, as it may be prepared, put into the oven and left for hours without moving.

Sonnach a la Parisienne.

Take the amount of spinach needed for the family, washing it carefully and draining until tender with only water that clings to the washed leaves. Chop very fine after cooking and drain dry in a colander, pressing out all the liquor before chopping. Season with butter, pepper, salt and a little nutmeg; cook until tender then add a pinch of sugar and a small teaspoonful of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of rich cream, whip to a paste, boil up once and serve very hot.

Onion Sandwich.

Thin slices of mild onion in cold water to crisp, then wipe dry and cover with seasoned dressing; let stand ten minutes and place between slices of buttered bread. Serve at once.

The Romance of Words

"PANIC"

ACCORDING to ancient mythology, Pan, the god of the country-side, was once a general in the army which Bacchus led into India. While encamped in a rocky valley, Pan's men were surrounded by an overwhelming force of the enemy, but orders were issued that all the soldiers were to ride at midnight, and, at a given signal, to shoot as loudly as possible. The shout, then, was carried through, and the hills echoing the sound, the enemy was so increased that the army was frightened and Pan taking it for granted that the invaders had been reinforced during the early hours of the night.

It was because of this that unreasoning and groundless fears took the name of panic, the. Shepherds of ancient Rome maintaining that any sounds of which they could not locate the cause were caused by Pan himself in order to frighten them. The word, therefore, is a tribute to an almost forgotten mythology which persists in such other forms as "Jovial," "mercurial," "martial" and the like, all of them derived from the names of the gods in whom the pagan Romans believed.

SPRING'S TAILORED SUITS REACH THE CLIMAX OF GOOD STYLE

TO BE new-suitless comes mighty near to committing a breach of the peace, in the realm of fashion. If madame has not already provided herself with this necessity of good form, let her give attention while a few late arrivals are brought to her notice, for in them the tailored mode reaches a climax of good style.

In styles the boxcoat leads in popularity and is shown in several variations. There are one button, two button and link button fastenings. Lines are straight, or very slightly fitted, just given a direction that is not always perpendicular. Pockets vary—the slit and flap varieties on suits of plain cloth and patch pockets on those that convey a hint of sports styles. Collars and sleeves also show some variations. Buttons for decorative purposes are very sparingly used, skirts are about equally divided between plain and wrap-around styles and are ten to twelve inches from the floor. The suit pictured may be taken as a faultless model—an under-arm seam gives it a little definition of the figure and the picture tells its story completely.

Although the suit shown here tells the truth and nothing but the truth about the tailored mode, it does not tell the whole truth, for there are other styles. They include longer coats, with broad or other decorations, suits of barred and checked flannels with self-decoration of bands or of plain flannel and suits of novelty materials. Every one can be suited.

Curwensville's Own Column

James Gourley met with a heavy loss yesterday forenoon when he was compelled to shoot one of his team horses. He was driving four horses in his team and had a heavy load of coal which he was taking to the stone quarry. When under the railroad bridge at Filbert street a train came along and frightened his lead team. By some means the spreaders became unhooked from the wagon tongue and the team ran away taking down the level space near the shanties they struck a spur of the B. & P. track to the railroad bridge. The horses followed the track until they hit the bridge when they attempted to make a crossing. Before they had gone very far their legs fell down between the ties. When the men reached them one horse had a broken leg and had to be shot. It required several hours of hard work to get the other animal free and fortunately it escaped with only several cuts and bruises.

The Curwensville High School and out in the hands of pupils and subscribers. The work was done by Fred R. Bisen and is a printer's masterpiece, and compares more than favorably with any work coming out of a city shop. Inside the cover is found the pictures of the present and past of the faculty and those of the proposed graduates. The members of the football team are pictured in picture and prose. The names of all pupils by grade came in the share of attention as did also the names who had advertisements placed in the book's pages. Taking all things into consideration the annual yearbook is about the finest booklet ever been issued by the High School.

FUNERAL OF J. A. SODERLUND

Funeral services for the late J. A. Soderlund were held at the Soderlund home on Dorey street yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The deceased had been a faithful member of the Salvation Army for 21 years and the local branch of the Army turned out in a body, marching from the house to the cemetery.

The services were in charge of Captain Watson, of Clearfield, who was assisted by Rev. Alban, of the U. B. Church; Captain Kohli, of Philadelphia; Captain Raub, formerly of Clearfield, but now at Philipsburg. Interment was made in Hillcrest cemetery.

Frocks That Are Invitingly Stylish

A PEEP under a wide awning reveals an enchanting assortment of summer frocks—comfortably stylish and beautifully becoming. Chiffons and silk crepes are the favored materials, while plaits and embroideries disport themselves at random, yet with perfect taste.
